

25 M$ seems to be a lot of money. However, for changing the economic structure of an area (city) that is "nothing", especially keeping in mind that that money is again distributed more or less equally over Louisiana. Also supporting all the six 20/20 areas (or even some additional ones) makes for me no sense at all! It would be better to focus on existing strengths (that could be microfabrication based on LiGA that could be the biomedical research carried out at Pennington) or needs ("Environmental" industry) and niches.
