

Florida State University has a Master's Degree program for the training of System Administrators which has run regularly since 1996 --

My only interest is in providing a "laboratory" for practical work experience for such a degree program, but I feel it would be a good program with a fairly quick payoff toward some of the lofty goals of CAPITaL.

For details on the FSU Master's see :
<http://www.cs.fsu.edu/academics/grad/cnsa/index.html>